ONYX ENVIRONMENTAL SERVICES

Onyxes.com is the Internet home for Onyx Environmental Services. This VISIA site reflects Onyx's position as a leading International Corporation. Onyx is a part of Vivendi, a worldwide leader in Waste Management, Water, and Energy Services. The site serves as a guide for the full range of services and technologies offered by the company. A key aspect of this site is provision of Environmental content including current news, developments and leading issues of the day. The technology selected for this site was ISP.

Visia is an integral part of the Onyx website development team. Their knowledge and expertise in website development allows us to rapidly deploy additional features keeping Onyx competitive in the marketplace. Visia has also proven to be an excellent choice for Web hosting. Our partnership with Visia has been a pleasant experience. We look forward to a continuing business relationship as we develop our site.
