A New Revolution of Worship Music

July 18, 2000

To whom it may concern,

Sovpro.com is the website for Sovereign Production, a new record label. Content on the site includes a listing of all the records produced by the label. Visitors can also play music from the site using real audio.

Studio Visia helped create a concept and design for our website, which mirrored our desire for excellence within our company. As a new company, everyone at Studio Visia was professional and very helpful. I highly recommend them for their excellence in design, programming, and grasp of the needs of the company's they work with.

Sincerely,

Scott Mallone
Director of Creative Content
